

Introduction

Do you find yourself wasting most of your day cleaning up other people's messes? Are you spending your time trying to interpret ambiguous instructions? Are you confused by people taking offence because they have misinterpreted what you meant? Or are you simply frustrated that people cannot seem to follow basic requests? Wouldn't it be great To Be able to communicate in a way that builds relationships and gets results?

Given that we spend approximately 75% of our time in work in interpersonal communication, it's no wonder that many cite communication skills as the number one issue facing their businesses today.

This two day workshop is designed to give you specific tools and techniques for improving your listening skills, delivering effective messages and bridging different communication styles.
